Description

This industrial building, built in the 1930's, maintains iconic character and is one of London's best examples of art deco architecture. It has been both a movie cannister factory and a pottery studio. Unusually when converted to office / studio spaces some 30 yrs ago the top duplex was taken by cult hairdresser 4th Floor who continue to do their magnificent thing for all. The building also features an amazing old lift, crittall windows, architect's kitchen, slip floors and there are plans to install a new energy efficient electric boiler and (openable) secondary glazing. The lights are LED.
